DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 3, and 82 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 5,368,392 to Hollander et al [hereinafter Hollander] in view of the art disclosed by Teledyne Brown Engineering, "Diffractive-Optic Gratings", Photonics Spectra, September 1994, p.186 [hereinafter Teledyne].

Hollander discloses a device for temperature measurement comprising:

a radiometer having a detector and an optical system for imaging the heat radiation emanating from a measurement spot onto the detector, and a sighting arrangement having a laser aligned to illuminate an optical element (30) moved by a motor to produce a light pattern that identifies and outlines the position and size of the measurement spot by means of visible light;

wherein the optical element generates a circular arrangement of more than two beams to outline and identify the energy zone.

Hollander does not disclose the optical element of the sighting arrangement being a diffractive optical system formed by a holographic element that generates the circular arrangement of more than two beams.

However, Teledyne discloses a holographic element (diffractive optical element) that splits a laser beam into a plurality of laser spots producing a circular pattern of more than two beams.

Referring to claim 1, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the sighting arrangement disclosed by Hollander by replacing the optical element and motor of the sighting arrangement with a holographic element, as taught by Teledyne, to form the circular light pattern in order to simplify the sighting arrangement by reducing the number of individual mechanical working parts.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3, and 82 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
